Education Committee FDI

I am Rodrigo Villalobos from Costa Rica, a country of peace with more than 200 years of independence, located in Central America, that has not had an army for more than 75 years, a great deal of resources has been invested in Health and Education for the well-being of the entire population and thousands of migrants seeking refuge have found it in Costa Rica.

I have been dentist since 1980 and

- Specialty in Pedagogy and Development of Teaching Skills, Mexico.
- Master's Degree in Education with Emphasis on Educational Innovation, Mexico.
- Master in Health Services Administration, Costa Rica.
- Clinical Dentistry Training Certificate, Major in Conservative Dentistry at Kyushu University Dental School, Japan.
- Adjunct Professor, Oral Medicine Department, Dental College, University of Illinois at Chicago, UIC, USA
- General Director, Editorial Board, Journal "Odontología Vital" ISSN: 1659-0775
- Former Dean Dental School, Ulatina for 23 years. Costa Rica

For many years I was a professor at public and private universities. Have many attendances and participation at international dental congresses and have contacts and network of internationally renowned dental scientists and speakers.

At the Ulatina School of Dentistry in Costa Rica, we train national and international dentists with Quality Accreditations and Reaccreditations standards. A number of curricular plans were developed by us, there for postgraduate courses in Endodontics, Periodontics and, with a focus on the elderly the Specialty in Geriatric Dentistry.

My area of research interest is in Dental Anthropology, with the study of the processes of dental and cranial modifications in pre-Hispanic cultures in Central America.

I firmly believe in the valuable and transformative power of education.

My aim into the FDI Education Commission is to engage deeply with my esteemed colleagues, drawing from their wealth of knowledge while also offering my own expertise.

I am eager to play a proactive role in supporting the Education Committee by actively monitoring and providing valuable insights on matters pertaining to dental education.

Additionally, I am committed to enriching discussions surrounding the scientific program of the World Dental Congress and enhancing the effectiveness of FDI's continuing education initiatives.

FDI World Dental Federation

Dear friends.

The Colegio de Cirujanos Dentistas de Costa Rica is pleased to promote Dr Rodrigo Villalobos' candidacy for the FDI Education Committee vacancies, which will be elected during the 2024 General Assembly elections.

We consider that Dr Villalobos meets the criteria to be an active member of this committee. He started his academic career at the University of Costa Rica; then he was elected to serve as Dean of the Dental School of the Universidad Latina in Costa Rica for more than 20 years. In this position, he was responsible for many projects, such as creating the Scientific Journal of his school and implementing an annual Scientific Meeting for students and young dentists. He has been a long-term collaborator of our association representing Costa Rica in the Education Committee of the Federación Odontológica de Centro América y Panamá (FOCAP), a regional organisation for the promotion and development of dentistry in Central America. His position as a Dean has granted him many academic contacts worldwide, and he has been an invited professor at the University of Illinois at Chicago, United States for the last five years. Dr Villalobos is recognised in our country as a natural leader, capable of administering and developing projects related to dental education.

We are confident that Dr. Villalobos will fulfil the responsibilities inherent to this position and be a valuable asset to the Education Committee. We respectfully request your support for this nomination.

Best regards,

Dr. Antonieta Muñoz
