Letter of Motivation

Over the past 35 years, I have dedicated myself, both in my private practice and through my involvement in professional organizations, to the prevention and improvement of oral health and, consequently, of the overall health of both my patients and populations at large, especially the most vulnerable.

Today, no one can say they are healthy if they are not in good oral health, and those who know me know my determination to defend the major role of the dentist in the overall health pathway of populations.

This has motivated my commitment as well as all my actions in the various national or international positions I have held or still hold today, particularly as President of the French Union for Oral Health - UFSBD, Director of a WHO Collaborating Center, Vice President of the FDI Public Health Committee, FDI Councilor and Honorary President of the UFSBD.

I have had the privilege of initiating and organizing the deployment, throughout France, of prevention and health promotion actions in favor of the most vulnerable populations in particular, and have relied on the organization of events, communication and interprofessional training to promote the implementation of an oral health pathway for all, adapted to the age and risks of patients.

Drawing the attention of public authorities on the importance of oral health, initiating dialogue with them to make public health policies evolve, raising awareness and reinforcing the place of oral health within global health, seeking and establishing partnerships to ensure the sustainability of our actions were also at the core of my missions when holding these positions.

For the past 3 years, it has been an honor to serve as an FDI Councilor. During that time, I have actively participated in the ongoing works carried out by the Council, as well as in more specific programs of other FDI committees and task teams on various subjects.

I have always conducted my projects in accordance with the values I hold dear, such as solidarity, ethics, social justice and transparency, while respecting the specificities of each organization and listening to each individual.

Looking ahead, many challenges arise. Our goals are ambitious but achievable. And I wish to continue to put at the service of FDI my high capacity of work, as well as the experience and expertise I have acquired throughout my professional life.

The passion I have often shared with you to get to see every citizen of the world benefit from optimal oral health care, as an essential contribution to their physical, mental and social well-being, has always guided me in my commitment choices. The missions I have had the privilege and honor to lead within the FDI Council encourage me to continue on this path and to run for a re-election on the FDI Council in order to continue to contribute to meeting the challenges our organization faces.

Thank you for your consideration.
